NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

YONKERS.

Captain Crawford, of the Salvation Army, fed 250 poor children vesterday afternoon at the barracks in Main-st., Yonkers, The children assembled at 1:30, and it took till 4 o'clock to feed them all. Twenty-one turkeys, 150 loaves of bread, a barrel of potatoes, besides several cases of oranges, were used. During the course of the dinner the band of nine pleces played for the children and many of the Army sang for them. The children were di-vided in two sections of 125 each, and were arranged about four long tables. The women members of the Army waited on them. . . . The annual ball of the Hudson Hose Company was held on Thankagiving Eve at Teutonia Hall. Foreman Henry A. Landsberg acted as floor manager, and was assisted by Robert Benjamin. The Reception Committee consisted of Robert Hooks, Angelo Roake, Fred Scholding, Thomas Ball, John H. Scholding, Morris Cahill, Theodore L. Busch and Christian Schlobohm. . . . Yesterday forenoon at the grounds of the Young Men's Christian Association, at Lowerre. the Young Men's Christian Association, at Lowerre, the football team of the Yonkers Lawn Tennis Club met and defeated the Crescents of Harlem by a score of 14 to 10. The proceeds from admissions will be devoted to charity. Last night at Teutonia Hall the Teutonia Society gave their annual Thanksgiving entertainment. A musical programmy was given, in which Miss Martha Sherer, Miss Amelia Kott, Miss Bertha Wagner, Miss Bertha Kott, August Nitsch, Emil Reigelmann, Frank Steadman, Charles Meininghaus and Otto Kott took part. After the entertainment there was a dance. The Amaranths, a social organization, presented "The Shaughran" at Music Hall last night before a large and appreciative audience. The proceeds of the play will be turned over to St. Peter's Church. Owing to the evangelical meetings now in progress in the city, special Thanksgiving services were held yesterday only at St. John's Episcopal, the Westminster Presbyterian and the Messiah Baptist churches. R. Fay Mills, the evangelist, held services in the morning, afterpoon and evening.

NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

An oll stove exploded vesterday in Richard Buck's liquor-store, at Sussex and Hudson sts., Jersey City, and set fire to the house, which was destroyed, together with the storage house of Garvey Brothers' brass foundry. The loss is about $5,000. The fire at one time threatened the International Navigation Company's warehouses, which adjoin the burned buildings, but they were saved. The losses by the burning of McKnight & Chidester's moulding mill, F. E. Tuxbury's sash and blind factory and John M Jones's saltpetre works will not exceed $50,000, and will probably not be more than $40,000. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company oil shed, containing a dozen barrels of kerosene, and a small carpenter-shop were also destroyed. The Ames spike factory was slightly damaged. John Ryan, also known as Seth Lemoss and Charles Bergman, the firemen reported injured by an explosion, were all right yesterday. They had merely been made unconscious by the fumes of the burning saltpetre.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

BROOKLYN DAY AT THE FAIR.

it was Brooklyn day yesterday at the fair in the new armory erected by the State for the 23d Regiment, the crack regiment of the Second Brigade of the National Guard. The entire city was well represented in the throng which attended and liberally patronized the attractions in both the afternoon and the evening. It was originally intended to close the fair last evening, but it has been in order to give further opportunity to dispose of many articles still remaining at the various booths. There will be no distinctive features to-day the usual hours, with the customary concerts. The fair has been a social as well as a financial success, and the attendance has been extremely satisfactory to the managers. The many persons who have taken chances in the guessing contests for the choice articles disposed of in this way are awaiting anxiously the opening of the scaled envelopes containing the lucky numbers. From a hundred to a thousand chances have been sold upon the half a hundred valuable articles entered in the contests. In the voting for the European trip, Chaplain Parker still leads Father Malone. Mrs. J. S. Hollinshead had charge of the flower booth again last evening. Another exhibition of the bullet-proof shield was given last evening. The fair will close at 10.30 to-morrow night. the usual hours, with the customary concerts.

REVIEWING THE BAPTIST BOYS' BRIGADE. The Thanksgiving Day review of the Baptist Boys' Brigade took place yesterday afternoon in the Brooklyn Rink. A detachment from New-York crossed the Bridge and joined the Brooklyn boys in Clinton-st. About 5,000 were in line and marched in Schermerhorn-st. Lafayette-ave., Clinton-ave., Gates-ave. and Vanderbilt-ave. to the Rink. Mayor Schleren reviewed the line from in front of his house in Clinton-ave. At the Rink the exercises consisted of singing, Bible drill, prayer by the Rev. Dr. W. C. R. Rhodes, competitive deciamations and drills, addresses and the award of prizes. There were many spectators present.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

The test suit growing out of the accident on the footbridge over Newtown Creek, in Meeker-ave., last year, in which a dozen persons were killed, has been dismissed by Judge Cullen on the ground that the contractor could not be held responsible after the bridge had been accepted by the two Murat Halstead gave a lecture on "Iceland," re counting a trip thither, on Wednesday in St. Agnes's Hall, at Sackett and Hoyt sts. The trip was made in 1874, at the time of the millennial celebration of the settlement of Iceland.

H. H. Rajan lectured on "The Home and Haunts of Shakespeare" in the Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal Church last evening.

Mayor Schieren is expected to make public today his veto of the resolution of the Aldermen which forbids strolling street bands to perform and limits the grinding of organs to the hours between 9 a. m. and 7 p. m., with restrictions in regard to distance from schools, churches and hospitals. The Mayor has received a bushel of letters

A mock trial was conducted by the Young Men's Union of Plymouth Church on Wednesday even-ing. The judge was W. V. Tupper; the defendant, Dr. Lyman Abbott; the prosecuting attorney, S. V. White; the counsel for the defence, Dr. Rossiter W. Raymond, and the clerk of the court, Frank

HEAVY GALES ENCOUNTERED BY INCOMING STEAMERS-ONE VESSEL FORCED TO HEAVE TO FOR SIXTEEN HOURS.

The Anchor Line steamship Furnessia, from Glasgow November 15, arrived here yesterday after Glasgow November is, arrived here yesterday after a stormy passage. Her passengers were among the many people who gave thanks in New-York yes-terday. Their thanks were chiefly attributable to the fact that they were ashore after two weeks of buffeting by the waves. On November 20 the wind blew with the force of "ten combined gales," and the stanch steamship made only forty-five miles in twenty-four hours. Then for a week the weather varied from fair to middling. On November 28 a heavy gale from the northwest sprang up, and with it came a heavy head sen. The steamship's bridge was smashed and some trifling damage done about her decks.

La Bretagne, French Line, from Havre, also reported very heavy weather. The steamship was delayed in leaving Havre until Wednesday, Nodelayed in leaving move the sinking of a vessel directly across the entrance to the barbor. Once clear of the land, the big steamship ran into a succession of gales, and on November 24 passed through a cyclone of twelve hours duration. One of the callors was dashed against the rail and had

The Hekla, of the Thingvalla Line, from Copenhagen, encountered many gales, and on November 21, while in latitude 29, longitude 47, was obliged to heave to for sixteen hours and pour oil on the troubled waters. The Hekla ran short of coal, and had to put into Halifax for a supply sufficient to bring her into New-York.

MAJESTIC'S PASSENGERS FINALLY GET AWAY. There were no Thanksgivings on the White Star Line pier yesterday morning. On the contrary, the people assembled there were angry and showed it, too. The Majestic was warped into her dock at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon and all of her

283 first cabin passengers shook hands with them-selves and said, "We will all be home with our 'luggage' to-night." About eighty-eight of them were-with luggage-and the other 200 were-without. Some time ago Treasury Department made the ruling that the Customs officers could not pass baggage from in-coming steamships after sundown unless a special permit from the Collector of the Port was obtained for the allowance of night work. The sun sank into the west at 4:35 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, so 200 very angry men and women had to leave their trunks on the wharf and wait until yesterday for the examination of their trunks. This examination took place yesterday while the bells were tolling for Thanksgiving services, but they pealed in the ears of men who were not indulging in thanks to any great extent. The pier was cleared in the early afternoon.

A MEAN TRICK ON THE BABOON.

HE WAS A NEWCOMER AT THE MENAGERIE, AND SOME ONE GAVE HIM CAYENNE PEPPER

IN A NUTSHELL. In these good Thanksgiving times the animals in the Central Park Menagerie are not forgotten by their kind friends who throughout the year come to enjoy the comic antics of the monkeys, the quarrel lings of the parrots, the roars of the lions and the wheedling way in which the bears ask for peanuts and even peppermint lozenges. The friends were there in full force yesterday and at nightfall every animal and bird was comatose. Not a natural sleepiness, but just simply a natural desire to sleep A baboon or dogfaced monkey, the gift of Mrs.

Schurchardt, of Newtown, L. 1., is the latest addition to the menagerie, and the simian was the only angry animal in the place for the major part of the day and threw back every gift offered him. This was owing to some young rascal's having given him in the early morning the shell of a peanut filled with cayenne pepper. This monkey is a fine specimen and generally quiet, but he was mad yesterday and It was only when a wee bit of a child offered him a sugar-coated cracker that he became a decent well-behaved denizen of the monkey-house. All the other monkeys were having a high old time and when the house was closed every one of them from the long-armed spider-monkey to the tiny marmoset had a store of extra food in his cheek pouches. The deer were well provisioned by the public and all day long had their cold black nostrils rubbing against the bars asking for alms. The grizzly, black and polar bears took an early stand, on their haunches, and stretched out their huge paws for gifts or opened their great jaws as a trap for those who wanted to practise pitching. The lions, leopards and tigers had an extra ration and then lay down to sleep, but the young cubs of the lioness and lopard were more mischlevous yesterday than ever, tumbling over one another in the straw, sont-tering it on every side and in their playful way chawing each other up.

MANY IMMIGRANTS ON ELLIS ISLAND.

Ellis Island held a larger number of immigrants yesterday than for any day during the last six months. Six steamships—the Majestic, Westernland, Furnessia, Lahn, La Bretagne and Heklahad landed there 1,190 men and women, and they crowded the big place. Dr. Senner received word from Washington not to discharge any of them people would have been seriously inconvenienced by such a detention, Dr. Senner allowed them to come over to the city and eatch the trains which were to bear them to their destinations.

COTTON ABLAZE ON A PIER.

The steamship Leona, of the Mallory Line, arrived here on Wednesday afternoon from Galveston laden with cotton. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning. fire broke out in the cotton which had been dis-charged from her, and for a time it threatened to spread to the other bales and packages of merchandise with which the pier was crowded. An alarm was sent out, but the fire was put out before the engines arrived. This makes the third fire which has occurred in the cargoes of the steamships of the line within two weeks, and each time cotton seems to have been the cause. On Friday, November 23, the steamship Lampasas was beached at Lewes. Del., with a fire in the cotton in her after hold, and only last week the Alamo had to be sunk in her dock here with cotton blazing stubbornly between decks.

Boys' Clothing. How To Know It Is All Wool.

There is a great difference between Boys' Clothing that is all wool, and that which is not. After long and hard wear, the all wool holds its color and its good appearance, while that which has cotton carded in soon looks faded and shabby.

But to begin with, all wool and part cotton cloths are made to look so much alike that even the expert cannot tell them apart except by chemical test. How then are you to know which you are getting? This is one way: We sell Boys' Clothing with a positive guarantee that it is absolutely all wool-like all other goods sold here, if it does not prove satisfactory, you can bring it back, and get your money. And our Suits from $5 to $6 show that our prices compare favorably with the mixed fabrics so often sold for all wool, besides there is the advantage of correct style and fit.
